Southern Patent Services Inc.
4F, Teheran-ro 14 gil 45
Kangnam-gu, Seoul (Yeoksam-dong), Korea

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In connection with any possible transaction or business opportunity involving Southern Patent Services Inc.'s patent portfolio (the "Transaction"), Fortress Investment Group LLC itself and/or on behalf of certain funds managed by it or by its affiliates ("Fortress") (i) is prepared to make available to Southern Patent Services Inc. ("you", or "your"), certain information and materials generated by Fortress or certain of its affiliates, representatives and/or other third parties, which Fortress considers to be valuable, non-public, confidential and proprietary (the "Fortress Confidential Information"); and (ii) understands that you are prepared to make available to Fortress, certain information and materials generated by you or certain of your affiliates, representatives and/or other third parties, which you consider to be valuable, non-public, confidential and proprietary (the "Southern Patent Services Inc. IP Confidential Information," and, together with the Fortress Confidential Information, the "Confidential Information"). As a condition to one party (the "Disclosing Party") disclosing such Confidential Information to the other party (the "Receiving Party"), the Receiving Party hereby agrees to treat any such information (whether oral, written or conveyed in any other medium) which is furnished to it on or after the date hereof, by or on behalf of the Disclosing Party in accordance with the provisions of this agreement.

1. Confidential Information.

   For the purposes of this agreement the term "Confidential Information" shall include any information or material obtained by the Receiving Party from, or disclosed to the Receiving Party by, the Disclosing Party or any third party on the Disclosing Party's behalf in relation to the Transaction and/or the Disclosing Party's business and investment activities, the fact that the Confidential Information has been made available to the Receiving Party or which the Receiving Party has inspected through on site visits at the Disclosing Party's offices, the fact that discussions with respect to any Transaction are taking place or other facts with respect to these discussions, including the status thereof, including, but not limited to, contractual arrangements, term sheets, plans, strategies, tactics, policies, analyses, forecasts, compilations, studies, interpretations, financial data, trade secrets, proprietary models, products, software, programs, know how, intellectual property, market data and methods, financial reports, cost and performance data, balance sheets, portfolio information, income statements, cash flow statements, statements of shareholder equity, debt arrangements, equity and/or debt structure, accounts receivable reports, accounts payable reports, compensation plans, and asset holdings and any memoranda or notes related to or derived in any way from any of the foregoing; notwithstanding the foregoing, Confidential Information does not include information which (i) is or has become generally available to the public other than by unauthorized disclosure by the Receiving Party or its Representatives (as defined below), (ii) was already known to the Receiving Party at the time of its receipt from or on behalf of the Disclosing Party; (iii) is rightfully received from a third party who, to the Receiving Party's knowledge, was not in breach of an obligation to maintain such information as confidential; (iv) is independently developed by the Receiving Party without reference to any of the Disclosing Party's Confidential Information.

2. Nondisclosure.

   The Receiving Party hereby agrees that it shall use the Confidential Information exclusively for the purpose of evaluating the Transaction, that except as otherwise provided herein, Confidential Information shall not be disclosed to any third party, that the Confidential Information shall be kept confidential, and that the Receiving Party shall not disclose any of the Confidential Information in any manner, provided, however, that Confidential Information may be disclosed (a) to any of Receiving Party's and its affiliates' directors, officers, employees, members, partners, representatives or advisors (including, without limitation, attorneys, accountants, actuaries, rating agencies, consultants, bankers, and financial advisors) and (with respect to Fortress only) potential financing sources (any such persons to whom the Receiving Party has provided the Confidential Information hereinafter, collectively, its "Representatives") who need to know such Confidential Information for the purpose of evaluating the Transaction (it being understood that prior to such disclosure the Representatives shall be informed of the confidential nature of the Confidential Information and agree to be bound by the provisions set forth herein), (b) if the Disclosing Party has given its prior written consent, and (c) to the extent, and only to the extent, required by law or legal process, stock exchange, self-regulatory organization, governmental agency or regulatory body, provided that, to the extent practicable and legally permissible, the Disclosing Party is given prompt notice in writing of the existence, terms and circumstances of any such requirement prior to the Receiving Party making any disclosure pursuant to this clause (c) and that the Receiving Party provide reasonable opportunity and assistance to the Disclosing Party in any attempt by the Disclosing Party to prevent or limit such disclosure. In the absence of a protective order or other remedy or the receipt of a waiver by the Disclosing Party, the Receiving Party or its Representatives shall disclose only that portion of the Confidential Information that is advised by counsel to be legally required and the Receiving Party shall exercise its commercially reasonable efforts to preserve the confidentiality of the Confidential Information.

3. Privilege.

To the extent that any Confidential Information may include material subject to the attorney-client privilege, work product doctrine or any other applicable privilege concerning pending or threatened legal proceedings or governmental investigations, the parties understand and agree that they have a commonality of interest with respect to such matters and it is their desire, intention and mutual understanding that the sharing of such material is not intended to, and shall not, waive or diminish in any way the confidentiality of such material or its continued protection under the attorney-client privilege, work product doctrine or other applicable privilege. All Confidential Information that is entitled to protection under the attorney-client privilege, work product doctrine or other applicable privilege and stamped and identified as such shall remain entitled to such protection under these privileges, this agreement, and under the joint defense doctrine. Nothing in this agreement obligates any party to reveal material subject to the attorney-client privilege, work product doctrine or any other applicable privilege.

4. Termination; Return of Information.

At any time upon the written request of the Disclosing Party, the Receiving Party shall destroy or return to the Disclosing Party all Confidential Information (and all copies thereof) including without limitation, all memoranda, notes and information derived therefrom. In the event of such request, the Receiving Party shall also provide the Disclosing Party with written verification confirming that all Confidential Information has been properly disposed of. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Receiving Party and its Representatives may retain one or more copies of the Confidential Information for the purpose of defending any claim related to this agreement or any transaction related hereto or as may be required in accordance with its or their respective legal, compliance and/or automated backup archiving practices. This agreement shall expire upon the earlier to occur of (i) the execution of a definitive agreement regarding the Transaction; and (ii) one (1) year from the date hereof.

5. No Representation or Warranty.

The Receiving Party understands and acknowledges that the Confidential Information is being provided without any representation or warranty, express or implied, as to its accuracy or the accuracy or completeness of the Confidential Information on the part of the Disclosing Party and in no event shall the Disclosing Party be held liable for any inaccuracy or incompleteness in the Confidential Information.

6. Damages.

Each party understands and agrees that money damages might not be a sufficient remedy for any breach or threatened breach of this agreement and that the Disclosing Party shall be entitled to obtain equitable relief, including injunction and specific performance, as a remedy for any such breach without the need to prove the inadequacy of monetary damages or post a bond or other undertaking. Such remedy shall, however, not be exclusive and shall be in addition to any other remedies which the Disclosing Party may have at law or in equity. Each party shall be responsible for any breach of this agreement by its Representatives.

7. Governing Law.

This agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of New York (without giving effect to conflict of laws principles thereof).

8. Entire Agreement.

This agreement represents the entire agreement and understanding of the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and supersedes all prior written or oral agreements, commitments and understandings pertaining to the subject matter hereof. The provisions of this agreement may not be amended, modified, supplemented or terminated except in writing signed by both parties. No failure or delay in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof and each party reserves the right, in its sole discretion to reject any and all proposals made by the other party related to the Transaction. This agreement shall inure to the benefit of each party's successors and assigns and may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original of which, taken together, shall be deemed to be one and the same instrument. It is understood and agreed that no contract or agreement providing for any Transaction involving the parties hereto shall be deemed to exist until a definitive agreement has been executed and delivered and each party hereby waives, in advance, any claims (including, without limitation, breach of contract) in connection with any Transaction unless and until both parties shall have entered into a final definitive agreement.

Please confirm your agreement with the foregoing by signing and returning one copy of this letter to the undersigned, whereupon this letter agreement shall become a binding agreement.

Very truly yours,
